

Joe Scionti Joins Corplex's Sales Management Team

Northfield, IL (Monday, February 25th 2008) Corplex, Incorporated, a provider of remote television broadcast facilities has announced that Joe Scionti is joining the company as Vice President of Sales. He is hired concurrently with the construction of Corplex's new HD unit Iridium and Support unit Zinc scheduled for completion August 1, 2008.

Scionti is an experienced industry veteran with a career in sports and entertainment television spanning more than twenty-five years. He began his broadcasting career in 1982 at ESPN, working in various capacities in SportsCenter as a Sports Assistant and Associate Producer responsible for creating highlight packages and other on-air products. In 1988, he moved into Remote Operations as a crewer and then worked on MLB and Big East basketball as an Operations Producer. In June of 1992, Joe moved to Pittsburgh and started his sales career with Unitel Mobile. Joe worked as an Operations/Sales Coordinator on Expos baseball, TWI Sports, HBO Sports, and NFL Films International. In October of 1999, Joe began his tenure at NEP Supershooters in Sales/Operations. In 2000, Joe was named Director of Operations, and by early 2002 he was promoted to Director of Client Services where he was responsible for providing budgetary direction to new and established NEP clients. During his time at NEP and Unitel, Joe was responsible for securing an exclusive contract with NFL Films International for 17 consecutive Super Bowl events as well as securing the contracts for the International Feed for the past 17 US Open Golf Tournaments. In total, he has been involved with more than 30 Major PGA tournaments with the USGA, LPGA and ESPN.

"We are proud to have Joe as part of our family and look forward to a very rewarding relationship" said Scott West, Corplex's President and partner. "I believe his extensive mobile production sales and operations experience combined with our focus on superior technical service and client support will allow Corplex to carefully expand its presence within the broadcasting industry."

Corplex is a leading provider of remote production broadcast facilities to the major networks including coverage of the Super Bowl, NCAA Men's Basketball Tournament, Masters, PGA Championship, and Stanley Cup. The company is privately held, managed, and owned by partners Carter Ruehrdanz, Scott West, Dave Greany and Robert Danko. Corplex is headquartered in the northern suburbs of Chicago, IL .

For additional information, please contact Scott West at (847) 784-9700 or scott@corplex.tv Current news and information is also available on the company's website – www.corplex.tv